DEVELOPMENT OF FITNESS TESTING FOR POLICE OFFICERS

The Request for Proposal (RFP) for Development of Fitness Testing for Police Officers issued September 2, 2014, has been amended. The following question and answer are hereby included in the RFP:

- Q: I serve as the project leader for a group PhD's who have extensive expertise and experience in the conduct of job task analysis, work and occupational physiology and the development of physical abilities testing using content validation methodologies and in particular with law enforcement. None of whom are I/O psychologists. Under section 5.0A-scope of work (RFP15019-js) it states: "the successful offeror will have a PhD, I/O Psychologist with experience.....". My question: Is this the only standard (PhD I/O psychologist) that will be accepted for this work?
- A: The City will consider proposals from PhDs with similar disciplines and experience, which match the qualifications of a PhD I/O psychologist.
